

Invitation to sponsors

We are inviting sponsors to the 58th edition of European Marine Biology Symposium (EMBS), which will be held in person from the 6th to the 9th of July 2025 in Bodø, Norway.

The first EMBS was in 1966, which was held in Germany. During the past symposia, researchers (e.g. in marine biology, oceanography, fisheries, aquaculture, physiology, genetics and ecotoxicology), practitioners and policy makers working within the marine field joined from different places around the world.

The EMBS has keynote speakers, offered talks and posters. This symposium offers an excellent opportunity to meet different people in the field and build new networking opportunities, offering a good opportunity as well to promote companies within the research and education sectors, including services, books, laboratory and field equipment.

Who will participate to the conference?

We expected around 300 participants. The conference will be attended by participants that are working on marine ecosystems:

- Researchers
- Professors and lecturers
- Postgraduate students
- Government scientists
- Consultants and scientists in commercial organisations
- Advisors to government and industry

Which are the benefits to sponsor?

- Increase visibility of your company (e.g. exhibition hall and digital marketing) as well as the potential of your company for professionals working in the marine sector.
- Increase exposure of your company to 300 participants from different countries around the world.
- Promote your products and services to international professionals within the marine field.
- Interact with students, researchers, policy makers, and practitioners, as well as identify potential partnerships to create and test the future ideas and products.
- Gaining new collaborations and connexions with participants within the marine field.
